THE BIG MYTH

Enter into your own mythic story and rediscover the joyful heart felt purpose that gives rise to the song within you that are here to sing — your Soul Song! These personal myths in turn shape who we become and what we believe—as individuals, families, and nations. This deeper understanding of your conditioning provides a foundation and framework for navigating your entire life journey rather than focusing on change at the level of your outer personality. However, when we understand through working with horses that the mythic realm goes beyond the psychological realm, we find that we are dealing with our connection to larger patterns of reality, to a kind of energetic network that connects all living beings.
