County Londonderry

Only a small pocket near Craigavon Bridge has a significant Catholic majority, while mixed areas can be found around the edges of the Waterside. Like a number of other former workhouse sites, the buildings are said to be haunted. An entrance and administrative block at the west contained a porter's room and waiting room at the centre with the Guardians' board room on the first floor above.

The fatal blow to the community came with a destructive fire in 1920 which destroyed a large portion of the town.

Londonderry

This would have implications for Counties Londonderry, Tyrone, and Donegal across the border.

Londonderry

The former entrance block is now used as commercial premises. The line never converted to electrically operated trams, and was closed in 1919.
