Threatened for his outspoken liberal views, Capek moved to New York to serve a Baptist church in 1914, but by 1919 he had become a Unitarian. Among them are: The Times 19, 20 February 1902 and 10 March 1902 ; Inquirer 22 February 1902 ; Christian Life 22 February 1902 and 1 March 1902 ; Burke's Peerage 1907 ; Hampshire Advertiser, Hampshire Independent, Southampton News and Hampshire Express all 22 February 1902 ; and Southern Unitarian Association Chronicle January 1937. We continue to build on the foundations so well and truly laid over nearly a century.

Unitarian Womens League

Of those in the second group, Presbyterians, , and a few independents gradually moved during the 18th century with their congregations toward Unitarian views. Ballou argued that sin is finite in nature, that its effects are completely experienced in this life, and that therefore all will be saved. John Biddle, Joseph Priestley, Thomas Belsham, and James Martineau are just a few of the names associated with the growth of British Unitarianism.

Headstrong and with no apparent intellectual ability, Neville was withdrawn soon after he entered the Royal Military Academy in 1833.

THE BRITISH AND FOREIGN UNITARIAN ASSOCIATION (INCORPORATED)

An organization unique in its character is the Post Office Mission which, by means of correspondence and the distribution of books and periodicals, seeks to bring to the despondent and to the suffering. Work developed in many directions, including the issuing of a monthly newsletter.
