For something that requires a little less dexterity, create your own cards at the collage card workshop with. I wonder if it is the world's smallest? For years Santa Cruz has been missing a central hub for the arts — a place near downtown for artists to live, work, and share their creative process and its results with the public. SCAL incorporated as a nonprofit in 1949 and bought a piece of property over a sinkhole resulting from the 1906 San Francisco earthquake.

A GUIDE TO THE TANNERY ARTS CENTER

Presidents, popes, world leaders, pop stars and movie stars come and go, but the Fab Four endure, seemingly growing stronger in legend as they recede farther into cultural history. Take a date, plan a night out with the girls, or bring the whole family to one of these art-focused experiences.

Santa Cruz Art League

Beginning in 1923, the second president lived in the basement of the local library and managed the property in exchange for exhibition space for the Art League on the walls of the city-owned building. We also supply complimentary paper plates, cups, napkins, plastic cutlery, plastic wine glasses, bottle openers, designated food tables and a full refrigerator for your use! Writing: Prefer expressing yourself with the written word? Jamison delved deeply into fan fiction for a class segment she taught on the topic at the time James produced the charity work.
