Information about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation is a non profit 501 c 3 educational corporation organized under the laws of the state of Mississippi and granted tax exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service. Heavy moths burring at the edge of the copse; green, and red, and gold flies: gnats, like smoke, around the tree-tops; midges so thick over the brook, as if you could haul a netful; tiny leaping creatures in the grass; bronze beetles across the path; blue dragonflies pondering on cool leaves of water-plantain. Sometimes it is a flycatcher, sometimes a greenfinch, or chaffinch, now and then a robin, in one place a shrike, perhaps another is a redstart.

He notes no slow movement of the oak's shadow on the grass; it is nothing to him and his lady dear that the sun, as seen from his nest, is crossing from one great bough of the oak to another. A crow rises lazily from the upper end of the field, and perches in the chestnut. Purple vetches along the mounds, yellow lotus where the grass is shorter, and orchis succeeds to orchis.

Pageant of Summer

The electric cloud seems almost level with the ground, and the livid flame to rush to and fro beneath the boughs as the little bats do in the evening. A yellowhammer has just flown from a bare branch in the gateway, where he has been perched and singing a full hour.

The Pageant of Summer, and Other Essays by Richard Jefferies

Hour after hour, and still not enough. He has left the hawthorn indeed, but only for a minute or two, to fetch a few seeds, and comes back each time more full of song-talk than ever.

The pageant of summer : Jefferies, Richard, 1848

The whole office of Matter is to feed life—to feed the green rushes, and the roses that are about to be; to feed the swallows above, and us that wander beneath them. Pink lychnis flowers behind the withy stoles, and little black moorhens swim away, as you gather it, after their mother, who has dived under the water-grass, and broken the smooth surface of the duckweed.
