Eli Whitney

His faith in his ability to achieve had been assured him by the importance of his invention; it had been reassured by his quick ability to repair the loss sustained by the fire, Whitney must have been gratified when the New Haven community honored him. A wooden shelf, set about three feet high, was nailed around 26 The World of Eli Whitney three sides of the room and served as a desk. This reflects the change from a merchant age, in which trade dominated, to the new economy of industry, whose chief concern was production.
