The dispersal of material was to some extent reversed in 1992, when photocopies of correspondence between the Bunins and the Zaitsevs were placed in the Leeds Russian Archive by N B Sollogub MS. ETAS items are listed as print-only in our catalogue.

Andrei Platonovich Klimentov

The separation was softened only by very extensive correspondence with her parents and brothers Dmitrii and Pavel. While dismissive of such politicians as I L Goremykin, the premier in 1914-16, Bunin also criticised opposition politicians like P N Miliukov as false defenders of the Russian people. According to a note made in 1966 by Zurov, the remainder of Lopatina's extensive archive of literary manuscripts, correspondence and books perished after Eremaeva's death.
