USAID grant for Food for Peace Programs

Increasing the efficiency and effectiveness of every food assistance dollar and doing more with the resources available has become essential.

FOOD FOR PEACE (FFP) COORDINATOR at Yemen

This points to another use of food aid: the explicit expansion of markets abroad for US products. At its top level, it divides the world of legislation into fifty topically-organized Titles, and each Title is further subdivided into any number of logical subtopics. The Title II program is made up of donations of commodities in order to cover emergency needs as well as development initiatives that are committed to reducing vulnerability to crises and enhancing the nutrition and food security of the malnourished living in developing nations.

Food for Peace

Another force to creep along during these decades was the amassing of power by agro-food multinationals that has spawned the birth of a new type of conflict: consumers fighting for accountability from corporate abusers.
