Auckland and te Tiriti o Waitangi/the Treaty of Waitangi

Appendix E: English version of The Treaty The following version of the English text of the Treaty of Waitangi is taken from the first schedule to the Treaty of Waitangi Act 1975. It established , although it did not make it a public holiday, and the English text of the treaty appeared as a schedule of the Waitangi Day Act but this did not make it a part of statute law.

Treaty of Waitangi

The Māori generally respected the British, partially due to encouragement from missionaries and also due to British status as a major maritime power, which had been made apparent to Māori travelling outside New Zealand.

Te Tiriti o Waitangi / Aotearoa NZ's histories resources guide / Aotearoa NZ's histories / Social Sciences Online

These values provide a basis for working with Māori to respond to their range of needs, aspirations, rights and interests and provide active partnership with Māori in the design and implementation of processes and outcomes sought. This refers to looking back at previous examples of similar issues that have been resolved in the past.

Te Tiriti o Waitangi

New Zealand officially endorsed in 2010.

Te Tiriti o Waitangi

Ngā Rerenga o Te Tiriti: Community organisations engaging with the Treaty of Waitangi

This is known as presumptive consent. It is recognised as the essential requirement for health and well-being. All disclosure documentation should be written in both English and Māori.

Bringing Te Tiriti to life

Rules and customary practices based on tikanga have also evolved over hundreds of years and give expression to the fundamental principles, values, and beliefs which underpin Māori culture Law Commission, 2001. It is not uncommon for ICT professionals to assume they can learn Māori or that they have a good understanding of the culture from observation.

Te Tiriti in 2021 and beyond

Article the first The Chiefs of the Confederation of the United Tribes of New Zealand and the separate and independent Chiefs who have not become members of the Confederation cede to Her Majesty the Queen of England absolutely and without reservation all the rights and powers of Sovereignty which the said Confederation of Individual Chiefs respectively exercise or possess, or may be supposed to exercise or to possess over their respective Territories as the sole sovereigns thereof. Any Māori representative should be comfortable with all of the frameworks and principals in these guidelines and have wide networks with Māori organisations and Iwi as a minimum requirement. Furthermore, Wright recommends that legislative references to tikanga Māori should come with a clear statement of purpose.
