Little Manhattan

Confused with his new feelings and with the divorce process of his beloved parents, Leslie and Adam, he experiences the delightful unknown sensation of being in love for the first time. Josh Hutcherson and Charlie Ray both did an outstanding job portraying the sometimes pain of growing up -- the sweaty palms, the horror of not knowing what to say, or saying it and being afraid of sounding so stupid.

MA'HAD ALIY

With their remaining time running out, Gabe tries to get closer to Rosemary, but only drives her away. It centers around a pastoral life with sheep and the processing of the wool by his mother and sisters. The soundtrack album for the film hasn't been released, making half of the songs used exclusive to the film.
