What were the causes of the Great Rebellion of 1857?

The aspiration of Thomas Macaulay - a member of the Company's ruling council in 1835, as well as a historian - to foster 'a class of persons, Indian in blood and colour, but English in taste, in opinions in morals and in intellect' is often quoted. Baugh quickly disentangled himself, and, seizing one of his pistols, advanced towards the mutinous sipahi and fired. Due to monsoon rains which had softened the ground, the two commanders were unable to flank the city and were forced to fight through its narrow streets.
