Under each unit was an excavation in which was a wood burning heater. The body was taken by canoe to Similkameen, thence by wagon to Osoyoos, where in the presence of a large gathering of friends, both white and Indian, he was laid to rest on -the hillside by the edge of the cottonwood grove on his beloved ranch. Flooding is seen in Grand Forks B.

Fur Trade Family History: October 2010

There was little concern given apparently to the inconvenience such laxity would cause the employees concerned or to the merchants who would have the burden of carrying accounts for seven months. It did not take the Nor'Westers long to see the advantage of shipping out their New Caledonia furs through this southern and Pacific route instead of taking them through difficult mountain passes and across the continent to Montreal.

Alaksen National Wildlife Area

Anderson would now be called Fort Colvile home, as in spring 1848 he had ridden away from Fort Alexandria for the last time.

The story of Osoyoos, September 1811 to December 1952

Young Apple Orchard on Mr. James Douglas traveled to the Fraser River to asses how easy it would be to travel downriver to the new Fort Yale.
