High impact teaching strategies in action: Differentiated teaching

Students with IEPs can range from individuals with Down syndrome or forms of autism to those with speech impediments or dyslexia—all of which require varying levels of support.

Art Education

Getting Students to School: Using Family and Community Involvement to Reduce Chronic Absenteeism. Others use a push-in model, where special education teachers provide lessons at certain times during the day.

Why Strong Teacher Relationships Lead to Student Engagement and a Better School Environment

Teachers should put their own creative spin on these instructional strategies to make them their own.

Art Education

Creativity is often paid lip service, but in reality, most schools are currently experiencing a —with significantly more creative activity occurring outside of school.

Creative Teaching and Teaching Creativity: How to Foster Creativity in the Classroom — Psych Learning Curve

When teachers are continuously exploring and tweaking their delivery system, a beautiful thing happens. Teachers might also pull students out of the classroom for one-on-one lessons or sensory activities, or arrange for time with counselors, speech therapists, dyslexia coaches, and other specialized personnel. With David Myers, he is co-host of a new global psychology podcast, Talk Psych.

Self

He nurtured creativity as a habit and skill every day—and it paid off.
