Department of History

Students acquire knowledge and skills about the research process and prepare to use these in their professional practice. For additional information, see the Global Shipping Programme A book that has been read, but is in good condition. Students investigate the legacies of such events through an analysis and discussion of the nationalization of British industry, the emerging welfare state, immigration, and modern British culture.

EUH1002 European History

Acceptance of IB tests and scores is subject to change without notice. Issue analysis touches on legal and ethical frameworks, and students build on their understanding of the code of ethics and the scope of practice for their health care profession.

History Courses: Thompson Rivers University

Accelerated Pathways students have differing policies from traditional first-time in college students, such as; course selection, withdrawing from courses, and retaking courses. As they progress, learners understand how science is studied and practiced, and become aware that the results of scientific research can have both positive and negative effects on individuals, communities and the environment. Napoleon asked an assembly of Jewish leaders whether - when they said they would be good citizens of an enlightened, modern state - they meant they would welcome intermarriage with non-Jews; from then every European state and every country's Jewry struggled with what Jewish participation and Jewish apartness could mean.

Cambridge International AS and A Level History (9389)

Accelerated Pathways students will work with their high school counselors or designee and the FSW advising to ensure both high school and college requirements are being met.

Degree Acceleration and Honors Programs

Students will learn about the presentation and pathogenesis of health challenges across the life span. Students engage in discussion and research that centres on historical documents, and modern historical interpretations and debate. The impact of Napoleon is addressed as is the Industrial Revolution and the advent of socialism, including Marxism.
