Diversity Matters in Academic Radiology: Acknowledging and Addressing Unconscious Bias

These barriers include insufficient exposure of underrepresented minorities and women to radiology and radiation oncology; misperception of these specialties as non—patient care and not community service; unconscious bias; and delayed preparation of candidates to compete successfully for residency positions. Particular emphasis is placed on the role of social agency, on the part of minorities, in confronting exclusionary forces.

Race Ethnicity And Difference: Imagining The Inclusive Society: Imagining ...

Just like anything else you aspire to change in yourself or in your environment, you must commit that same time and effort in showing up as an ally and advocating for necessary change. The focus is on how urban planning can and should become inclusive and pluralistic in response to the ethnocultural diversity of the people it serves.
