Homo floresiensis

But,, of course we are warned of this in that same Bible. Humans have about 2 million spread over their entire bodies, many more than chimpanzees, whose sweat glands are scarce and are mainly located on the palm of the hand and on the soles of the feet. Homo sapiens and our close relatives may have some unique physical attributes, such as our dextrous hands, upright walking and resonant voices.

Evolution and the Origin of Races

This caterpillar looks just like a snake. This particular environment favours reduced energy requirements with dwarfing a response to this.

Java Man

Pitdown is therefore an excellent example of how science works: the constant interplay between evidence and interpretation. But the brain of Java Man ranked with embarrassing bulk at some 900 cm³, or two-thirds human volume. The discoverers Peter Brown, Michael Morwood and colleagues argued that a variety of primitive and derived features identified the remains as that of a new species.

And sorry but when I compare the two, the white side of my family do behave think and deal with things better.

Half

I am quite sure that if it was Africans for example running the world today they would be more racist than white people are! Where were you when I was completing my history degrees? Also, the oldest homes or huts or stone huts were built along the river Somme in France. Historical movements of people have been described for 4000-5000 years, far longer than the time claimed to exist after the recession of the Flood waters and the beginning of recorded history.
