Guns and Rain: Guerrillas and Spirit Mediums in Zimbabwe

The People and the Land Part II. It shows that to understand the meaning the war and independence have for the people of Zimbabwe themselves, we must take into account not only the nationalist guerrillas and politicians, the bearers of guns, but also the mediums of the spirits of the Shona royal ancestors, the bringers of rain. He shows that a territory's native inhabitants are regarded as descendants of its ancestral founder, but that mechanisms exist by which outsiders - like the guerrillas, who were strategically mobilized in operational zones away from their home districts - could become 'naturalized' descendants as well.
