The United Kingdom Balance

Ireland and Germany were the most prominent net lenders with corresponding net surpluses of more than EUR 20 billion, followed distantly by Luxembourg with a net surplus of EUR 8. More specifically, the four main components of the current account are defined, according to the BPM6, as follows. The trade deficit is the biggest component of the current account.

United Kingdom Current Account Balance

Essentially, the UK has been importing more goods and services than it has been exporting.

Balance of BPM6

As a consequence for imports an FOB adjustment is required in order to deduct the value of freight and insurance premiums incurred for the transport up to the border of the importing economy. What about trade in a particular commodity? The balance on FDI earnings has consistently been in surplus, contributing positively to the current account balance. Around three fifths of EU Member States' international trade in goods and half of their trade in services were related to trade with other EU partners in 2019 — see Figure 4 data for Spain, Malta, as well as for Switzerland and Norway are not available.
