Naomi Cass, Exhibition Curator and Director Centre for Contemporary Photography 1. SG: When I was looking at initial test prints of the photos, picking them up, putting them down, shuffling, arranging, I realised that that was how I wanted them to be seen, with that same physical proximity, the same access, and also that tenderness. The outstanding achievements of Victorian art reflect the fundamental themes of Love and Death.

Book I: New York Elanna is hired by the Bollywood starlet, Simryn Gill, to reopen the case of Rajesh Sharma, a Bollywood director who died, supposedly from cardiac arrest, two years previous. I am not sure that these two disqualify each other.

Questia

These artworks rethink everyday objects and their commonplace meanings when presented to the world as art. Is it possible to compare the projects you do now with those you worked on while at FormContent? They are extravagantly emotional, endowing subjects drawn from the remote past with the passions and emotions of real people in the present: love and death, fear and longing, beauty and desire. Further works include the highly personal Power station 2004 and Distance 2003-2008.

Simryn Gill: Inland

I think such projects develop from the opposite end, they oppose the rational, objective archival logic, itself a colonial legacy to the subjective, informal, anecdotal. But these three versions, to become a set, needed to exist in the same form, on the same plane. Pages are intact and not marred by notes or highlighting.
