1816 in Canada

Maseres submitted his report to Carleton on February 27, 1769, and he also approved of the policy of assimilation put forward by the Board of Trade in its report in July. They were challenged somewhat by the naval official Cottnam Tonge from 1797 until 1807 when Governor Wentworth dismissed him and refused to accept him as Speaker. Some pieces of ice among which the Montreal passed were about 50 feet under water and about 6 or 8 above it.

1817

On 1 January 1814 the company mustered at Hasparren France? He was as rigorous with his own subordinates as with the French party in insisting that written communications to or from the French were read first by himself. The British negotiator Shelburne wanted reconciliation and a commercial treaty.

Food Timeline: 1811 to 1819

These troops are destined for New Brunswick. Being no gentleman, in his view, Napoleon lacked the honour to keep to his word. Taking Rinevaha for Carrigahold, and would have got off by the next spring tide, had the peasantry not boarded and rendered her not sea-worthy, by scuttling her, and tearing away all her rigging, they then robbed the crew of all their cloths, tore their sails which they made bags of, to carry away the plunder, and then broached the tierces of pork and distributed the contents to people on shore, who waited to convey chops up the country.
