Pesticides

Associations varied with tumor subtypes and kinds of crop and animal farming.

Chapter 22 ~ Pesticides

There are an increasing number of conflicting reports regarding the direct exposure toxicity risk of glyphosate, but no rigorous investigations on the generational actions. The residue levels of these contaminants measured in the study were relatively lower than those reported for European, African and Asian populations.

Resource Manual on Hazards of Pesticides

We conclude that the known declining trend of important xenobiotic substances in human milk of German mothers has continued. At adolescent age, the permethrin-treated group showed decreased levels of dopamine in the striatum, loss of dopaminergic neurons in the substantia nigra pars compacta and cognitive impairments.

Use of Chemical Pesticides in Ethiopia: A Cross

The present study therefore upholds the continuous environmental and occupational risk of DDT in Ethiopia. The exposure route by which the product is graded the most toxic to humans will determine the signal word that must appear on the label.
