A Pastoral Letter on Racism: A New Awakening

Listen to Cardinal DiNardo's official statement on the racial unrest in our country On June 9, 2020 Cardinal DiNardo issued an official statement calling out the need to acknowledge the evil of racism as an offense against the dignity of the human person, and to work for unity and justice in our country. The Holy Spirit made manifest at Pentecost enabled people of diverse languages and cultures to understand the one message of salvation.

A Pastoral Letter on Racism: A New Awakening

I will take the Communion Service on 2 April. One diocese in the church has adroitly adapted this poster for local use by substituting the concluding words with: in this pew — in this church — in this community. Most dioceses lack the resources to provide such materials for more than one or two groups.

Welcoming the Stranger Among Us: Unity in Diversity

He saw her in all her beautiful particularity; he sees us in the same way. Special events such as international dinners, common social events, and multicultural parish feasts can help to introduce the various members of the parish to other cultures and can lead to greater exchanges between groups. All of us need to take whatever steps are necessary to ensure that the voices and contributions of every community within our Church are fully integrated into the activities and structures of parish and archdiocesan life.

Pastoral Letter on Racism from The House of Bishops

If you need my pastoral visit please contact me. Our archdiocese is blessed to have a rapidly growing number of parish communities that celebrate their own culture and bring the gifts of their ethnic heritage to the sacramental worship of the Eucharist.
