Honoré de Balzac, sintesi e la descrizione dei personaggi

Goriot was an elderly libertine, whose eyes had only been preserved by the skill of the physician from the malign influence of the remedies necessitated by the state of his health. He had left off wearing the corn-flower blue coat, and was sumptuously arrayed, summer as well as winter, in a coarse chestnut-brown coat, a plush waistcoat, and doeskin breeches.

Una figlia di Papà Goriot

. Nel capolavoro letterario che è venuto dalla sua penna, i personaggi sembrano naturali, vivace, sono interessati nelle cose che attraggono tutti. Poiret was a sort of automaton.

Papà Goriot

One single consideration influenced all these human beings thrown together by chance. Access is given by a French window to the first room on the ground floor, a sitting-room which looks out upon the street through the two barred windows already mentioned. I mean to open your eyes to your real position, that is what I am going to do: but I shall do it from the point of view of a man who, after studying the world very closely, sees that there are but two alternatives—stupid obedience or revolt.

Papà Goriot (I) di Honoré de Balzac

Victorine una joven que vive en la pensión es pobre porque su rico padre gasta toda su fortuna en su hijo, a quien ve como su heredero. Christophe, the man-of-all-work, slept in one, and Sylvie, the stout cook, in the other. Three or four lackeys were making merry over the festal appearance of the vehicle.
