Capitalism, psychiatry, and schizophrenia: a critical introduction to Deleuze and Guattari's Anti

The historico-cultural reason behind this reversal is the event of World War two itself. This totalising view of representation is reliant upon a specific type of thinking that Deleuze, in the chapter of the same name in Difference and Repetition 2004 , calls the dogmatic Image of Thought.

The murals and canvases produced at Papunya were part of a transformation of a ritual form of inscription between bodies and the Earth that allowed the Warlpiri, Anmatjera and other communities to find a form of cultural expression despite the economic, cultural and philosophical violence enacted upon them. The second model of time is linked by Deleuze to Kant KCP vii-viii , and it constitutes one of the central ruptures that the Kantian philosophy creates in thought, for Deleuze: this is time as a straight line. The constancy with which revolutionary groups have betrayed their task is well known.
