

Dynamics of productive relationships - African share contracts in comparative perspective

Cambridge University Press - Local Models, Global Change: Community Impacts and Sustainability Visions

Description: -

Métayer system -- Africa.dynamics of productive relationships - African share contracts in comparative perspective

-dynamics of productive relationships - African share contracts in comparative perspective

Notes: Includes bibliography and index.

This edition was published in 1987

Filesize: 55.910 MB

Tags: #Economic #Diversification #in #Africa: #How #and #Why #It #Matters

Economic Diversification in Africa: How and Why It Matters

Leveraging supplier capabilities: The role of locus of capability deployment. For instance, Robert Feenstra and Hiau Kee found that, on average, a 10 percent increase in export variety leads to a 1.

Review: Review Article: Landlords, Tenants and Share

Closely associated with the process of structural transformation from lower to higher productivity sectors, economic diversification has three evident dimensions.

Local Models, Global Change: Community Impacts and Sustainability Visions

The European Journal of Development Research 20(2) 219–239, Trade, Technology and International Competitiveness 22(4) 831–69—101

Local Models, Global Change: Community Impacts and Sustainability Visions

The authors are solely responsible for any shortcomings and errors in the content.

Review: Review Article: Landlords, Tenants and Share

This is the case in Ethiopia, Madagascar, and Rwanda. Some African countries have also diversified their trade partners.

Do Productive Capabilities Affect Export Performance? Evidence from African Firms

For instance, the CIT or PIT could each be disaggregated at the intensive margin of the active contributing economic sectors today such as gold mining or automobile manufacturing and at the extensive margin of inactive sectors that could contribute to taxes in the future such as aircraft manufacturing. Innovation outcomes of South African new technology-based firms: A contribution to the debate on the performance of science park firms.

Do Productive Capabilities Affect Export Performance? Evidence from African Firms

Rakotoarisoa, Massimo Iafrate, and Marianna Paschali, Why Has Africa Become a Net Food Importer? Northern and southern innovativeness: A comparison across European and Latin American countries. World Development 20 2 : 165—186. Among economists, the Theil Index has emerged as the most widely used tool to measure exports diversification.

Related Books

- False Formosan - George Psalmanazar and the eighteenth-century experiment of identity
- Mirza Mohd. Rafi Sauda \(poetry\).
- Trilogía de personajes femeninos en Al filo del agua.
- This mean disease - growing up in the shadow of my mothers anorexia nervosa
- Great American convertible