Turkish Glass Making

Was the name it acquired from Farsi ebri on account of its cloud-like appearance? Becoming on the one hand the Sword of Islam and conquering countries in God's name, at the same time, it dedicated nearly all its art to the most beautiful expression of the pine; for the most part in its music, in its architecture, in its calligraphy, and in its decorative arts, the Turkish nation dealt with that which was mystical. As one of the largest manufacturers of glass and glass products, the USA is making leaps and bounds in the development of this industry. Rather than having the orderly arrangement of most hard matter, the microscopic structure of glass resembles a liquid, stuck in time.
