Structural Survey

As the summer of 1941 approached, gratifying progress was being made toward strengthening the air defenses in the Caribbean. On April 8, 1943, construction under the contract was terminated and a new contract negotiated with the original contractors to complete several major items of dredging still unfinished.

House No.7 cottage on the Isle of Tiree by Denizen Works

Bibliography Bibliography E I Q U X Z Allen, N. Meanwhile, the first Seabee group, one officer and fourteen men detached from the 30th Battalion at Trinidad, arrived February 9, 1943, to form the Public Works Department for the operation and maintenance of the naval shore installations. We developed a concept that comprises two houses, a Living-house and a Guesthouse, linked by a Utility wing.
