The Andean Community and Chile

Chile is associated member of the Andean Community.

The Republic of Chile was a founding member of the Andean Community in 1969 and retired from CAN in 1976. The Republic of Chile returned to the Andean Community as an Associate Member State in 2007.

Chile's return to CAN as an associate member has been one of the most significant processes of integration between the Andean Community (Bolivia, Colombia, Ecuador and Peru) and Chile, amounted to 7.134 million USD, representing an increase of 4% compared to 2006.

The Andean countries formalized their invitation to Chile to become an Associate Member of the CAN through a letter delivered to Chilean President Michelle Bachelet in August 2006. This letter was followed by a meeting between the Chilean Minister of Foreign Affairs and the enlarged session with the CAN Commission, approved Decision 645, giving Chile the status of Associate Member of the Andean Community.

Subsequently, in November 2006, the CAN Member Countries, on the one hand, and Chile, on the other, signed the Act Creating the CAN-Chile Joint Commission, which held its first meeting in Santiago de Chile on 12 December 2006. This joint commission will be composed of a High-level Technical Ad-Hoc Working Group to undertake, within a period of ninety days, to define the modalities of Chile's participation in the Andean Community.

Before the end of May 2007, the scope of Chile's participation at the bodies and institutions of the Andean Integration System, the mechanisms and measures of the Cartagena Agreement and the Andean Charter, as well as the modalities of Chile's participation in the other three Associate Member Countries, should be defined together with the way those relations will be managed.

It should be stressed that trade relations between the CAN and Chile have also been strengthened, especially in the area of services, where Chilean exports to the CAN countries approach a figure of US$ 1,560 million, driven mainly by the heavy growth of services and construction sectors. Chilean exports to the three countries showed important increases in 2006.

of the Andean countries, Peru is the largest buyer of Chilean products, followed in importance by Colombia, Ecuador and Bolivia.
