Moreover, through the consistent use of the Missal and the Breviary we are enabled to live again the mysteries of Christ as they are presented to us in the seasons of the ecclesiastical year. Participation in the Liturgy of the Hours rapidly became the almost exclusive province of clergy and religious.

Vespers Vespers, which is also known as Evensong, is, as the name implies, the evening prayer of the Church, and should ideally be said at about sunset. There are also fewer options for votive offices in the Liturgy of the Hours than there are for votive Masses in the Roman Missal. Works collected here include masterpieces by David Hume, Immanuel Kant, and Jean-Jacques Rousseau, as well as religious sermons and moral debates on the issues of the day, such as the slave trade.

The office of Holy Week (1923 edition)

The Alleluia and other joyful prayers return to the Mass and Divine Office, and indeed are sung with greater abundance than the rest of the year.
