NewzealandRail

The motive of railway time table is to synchronize the running of trains across India based on their route and halt stations.

Timetable

Distance: Distance covered from Origin Station. Platform Number: The platform number where the train actually or is scheduled to stop Enroute
Day: Number of Day of train travel. This information is essential in singling out a train from thousands of others running on that same day.

Timetables

Weekday services are only provided during peak hours.
