Response: Because the tribe has control over when it submits a tribal request for election and has advance notice that it will need to appoint two members to the Board and because BIA is required to move very quickly, the final rule does not increase the 10-day timeline for appointment. If on schedule, it will give you an opportunity to reinforce positive actions. It appears to be human for assistants to be attracted to certain patients and not others, especially patients known for a long time.
