Warriors without weapons

How might you stop yourself? Of course this is not a game about working together but we did it twice in two different ways. They danced on the stage and shone so bright and showed the audience, which contained many of the participants in our workshop, that they have achieved their dreams and are inspiring others to do the same. There is more to share than I can say, yet here is my account of 5 weeks of learning, stretching, growing and waking up.

Warriors Without Weapons

I have part of this quality, because I know I can do even better. I think that we as human beings have been given the freedom to chose what our gift will be to the world. To make what normally looks like hard and serious work into fun, amazing, beautiful play!!! University of Chicago Press, 1946.

Warriors Without Weapons

I believe it is possible to change the world in a concrete way.

Stuart Dow Warrior Without Weapons

By receiving this task we was visiting the family of my wife in Blumenau for one week. So far our little history of reduction and reuse! I practice this in my realtion with my wife, in my working pratice. MY CONSUMPTION I feel that I am already quite aware of what I consume and it is already a daily practice for me to see where I can be more efficient.

Warriors without Weapons

I want to be mobil and not an owner of a car! I have been connecting with people from home and from YIP and I can see the fruits on the trees all across the world ripening and they are just waiting to be picked.

A Warrior without Weapons

Do I have professional questions? I had to sort through a lot of my clothes and leave behind anything that was not absolutely necessary because 20 kilos is not so much to take back home. A strong experience in this context is to observe my little daughter how happy she gets when she can share! I think what I want to bring to this community is a little bit of my understanding of the world; the global community and the responsibility of the individual inside it, but also the very important aspect that we can have fun while creating the life that we want.

Warrior Without Weapons

We actually had many discussions about whether it was cooperation or collaboration that we wanted to bring and we even discussed the meaning of both of those words and why one was more relevant than the other. I wanted to start the trip hitch hiking to Berlin which was my first destination.
